$25,000 Bankrupt Stock of Joseph Auerbach

At 40c and 50c on the Dollar

With characteristic energy we have purchased from the receivers by order of the court, the entire stock of Men's Clothing, Hats, and Furnishings of Joseph Auerbach, 613 Fourteenth Street, and beginning this morning we place it on sale at prices that will make this the most sensational trade event in the history of Washington retailing.

It is the largest purchase of any single stock ever recorded in this city—a transaction that makes it possible for us to offer men's apparel of the highest quality at HALF AND LESS THAN HALF REGULAR PRICES.

Joseph Auerbach enjoyed an enviable reputation for selling high-class, distinctive merchandise, and catered to the most particular trade in Washington. For many years the recognized leader in his line at the old stand on Pennsylvania avenue, between 6th and 7th streets, and during the past season at the new store, 613 Fourteenth street, he numbered among his clientele the most particular dressers at the National Capital.

The opportunity is now offered you to supply your apparel needs from this high-class stock at unparalleled savings. The entire stock is to be closed out at prices that represent but a part of Joseph Auerbach's prices.

Washington has never known a sale of such magnitude and scope—and thrifty buyers cannot fail to realize the wonderful bargain possibilities offered in Men's Clothing, Hats, and Furnishings.

The sale starts tomorrow morning at our store, with an extra sales force to serve you promptly. The stock is of such mammoth proportions that it is impossible to advertise all the bargains in a single advertisement. Each day's announcement will present new features and additional bargains.

CHESTER PARENTS BEWAIL ELOPERS

the first witness to take the stand. He said that the bullet entered the right temple, fracturing the skull. From the powder marks, he said, it was evident that the shot was fired at close range. Chief of Police Goods next took the stand and told of going to the hotel and the incidents leading up to the time of the shooting and the subsequent arrest of Firth. He found the girl in a crouching position, with blood gushing from the wound in her temple and the pistol in her lap. She was unconscious. The bullet was then exhibited to the jury by Chief Goods.

Firth then took the stand and told the jury that he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as a night ticket agent in Chester, and that he left Chester in company with the girl at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The girl, he said, told him she was going to leave home and wanted him to go with her. Before leaving home the girl, he said, took the telephone off the receiver at her home. Here he produced some written memoranda which he had made concerning his journey, and gave the time they reached different places along the route. Among other things, he said that after arriving in Baltimore they boarded an electric train for Washington. After getting lunch in Washington they took the 10 o'clock electric train for Alexandria, arriving there shortly before 11 o'clock. The girl, he said, told him that if she was ever caught she would drown herself.

William L. Rammel, proprietor of the hotel, also testified. He said the couple registered as man and wife and placed their street address on the register.

Two notes pinned closely to the girl's corset were found yesterday when her effects were removed from the hospital. One of the notes was written in ink and the other with a lead pencil. The note written in ink was dated August 22, and signed "Teddy," and the second also appeared to have a similar signature, although it was covered with blood and it was hard to decipher. One of the notes in part read: "You are the only one to make me happy," and "All I want in this world is your love." The other read, in part, "I will treat you as your husband." "Teddy" was a nickname given Firth by the girl, and the supposition is that both were written by him to her.

Fallieres at Aero Maneuvers.
Paris, Sept. 14.—President Fallieres today attended the army maneuvers on the Plains of Picardy. A luncheon was given in his honor, during which an opportunity was given to the officers of the attacking and defending armies, who were present, to explain their general theory.

WILL GO TO ATLANTA.

I. O. O. F. Degree Team Ready to Enter in Competition.

The degree team of Columbia Lodge, No. 10, I. O. O. F., which has been priming itself for entrance into the degree competition which is to take place at the annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the World, has completed all its preparations for its trip South, and will leave over the Seaboard Air Line in a special car next Sunday morning at 10:05 o'clock, arriving at Atlanta, Ga., early Monday morning.

The homeward bound route will be by way of Savannah, and thence by the Merchants and Miners' Line to Baltimore. The degree team consists of thirty members, among whom will be found one past grand master, a past grand representative, and one past department commander, Canton, P. M., and quite a representative number of prominent Odd Fellows.

The competition for the prizes will be a splendid one, as degree teams have been entered from all parts of the United States and Canada. Columbia Lodge is a three-time prize winner, having won first prizes at Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Toronto, Canada, during past sessions of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and are confident of bringing back the $1,000 prize from Atlanta.

The team is uniformed, and will be seen in the grand parade to advantage. The team has been instructed in its degree work by Past Grand J. Edward Fowler and C. D. Shackelford, who have spared no efforts to make the members letter perfect in the beautiful work of the order.

CATTLE COMPANY INDICTED.

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—The Golconda Cattle Company, of which William E. Kent, insurgent candidate for Congress in the Second district, is president, was indicted by the Federal grand jury at Carson today for illegal fencing of government land.

Kent, during the primary campaign, in which he defeated Representative Duncan McKinley, made every effort to prevent prosecution. His appeal to President Taft and other Republican leaders failed evidently.

Wickersham on Way Back.
Chicago, Sept. 14.—After a half-hour conference with United States District Attorney Sims, and later a long talk with Representative Mann, Attorney General George W. Wickersham left Chicago this afternoon for Washington.
